For ASRS retirees or beneficiaries receiving a monthly benefit who reside outside of the United States, please note:

- The ASRS must have on file the address where you are living, and, if possible, a valid email address. This applies even if your benefit is being deposited directly into a U.S. bank or financial institution.
- If you permanently move back to the United States, it is important that you notify the ASRS upon your return.
- Failure to notify the ASRS of your current address or upon your return to the United States can result in suspension of benefit payments.
- The ASRS cannot make direct deposits of benefits into foreign bank accounts.

Members and retirees may notify the ASRS of an address change via the ASRS website. To do this, click on the My ASRS Login icon toward the bottom of the homepage. If you have previously registered, you may log in to your secure area and select "Update Primary Mailing Address". If you have not logged in previously, you can create your log in with a few simple steps.

Members may also update their address and other information with the ASRS by email or telephone. See Contact information above.
